Generations of Virtue is a non-profit, volunteer-driven ministry dedicated to equipping parents and teens in the battle for purity. We travel to conferences across the country and in Asia speaking with parents and teens and providing resources that will aid them in living pure lives. Our founder, Julie Hiramine, is a distinguished speaker, especially in the home-school arena. As a ministry, we feel God's call to help the next generation fulfill its God-given destiny to raise a banner of purity amidst our world's impurity. For this reason, we have created this internship program.

Our internship program is designed to mentor young people in the following areas: purity, Christian character, servanthood, work ethic, and virtue. Interns travel with us for six weeks as we exhibit at different conferences in the U.S. This is an intensive program that requires self-sacrifice and a genuine desire to grow spiritually. The applicant has chosen you to write a recommendation for him or her. Your honest appraisal of the applicant's strengths and weaknesses will help us determine if this program is the best fit for him or her.
